

Dear Women's Club Captain:

I encourage you to register your women's club champion into the 2006 Northern California regional qualifier for the Chrysler Club National Championship, a premier, stroke play competition for amateur club champions. The qualifier will be held at renowned CordeValle Golf Club in San Martin, Calif. on Monday, October 2, 2006.

As an amateur player who is truly passionate about golf, I've enjoyed competing in this event both at the regional and national level. It is a great opportunity to represent your club and test your talent against other competitive players in the field. This tournament is first class from start to finish. If your champion is lucky enough to qualify for the finals, she will win the opportunity for great tee prizes, dinners, cocktail parties and chauffeured courtesy cars. It was great to share the experience at Innisbrook with my husband, Carl.

In 2004, I was fortunate to win the Championship and the grand prize of playing in the 2005 Bob Hope Chrysler Classic Pro-Am alongside the touring pros. I had interviews on The Golf Channel, club fittings and I received an abundance of tee prizes. It was great having my friends and family at the Championship to watch one of the highlights of my amateur golfing career.

A Great Opportunity For Your Female Club Champion

- Your club champion will receive a round of golf at CordeValle Golf Club, inclusion in a hole-in-one contest for a 2006 Chrysler vehicle, a Chrysler Club Gift Package valued at $150, an invitation to an exceptional dinner and awards ceremony, a chance to network with other women golfers and a subscription to GolfWorld – all for only $175 per player entry fee.
- The first through fourth place male and female winners from each regional tournament will be invited to compete in the Chrysler Club National Championship Finals at Westin Innisbrook Resort in Tampa Bay, Florida, in October.
- The male and female winners of the national finals will win the opportunity to compete in the Bob Hope Chrysler Classic Pro-Am in February 2007.

Your club's participation in this championship will also benefit the National Multiple Sclerosis Society as well as the American Junior Golf Association. Contributions from this event will fund research and programs to help find solutions to end the effects of multiple sclerosis, and provide college golf scholarships to young men and women through competitive junior golf.

I hope to see your club represented at the regional championship this October. Click Here (insert link to club entry form here) for more information and to register your women's club champion today.

Sincerely,

Lynne Cowan
El Macero Country Club
2004 Chrysler Club National Champion